Hello,

Fix Democracy First supports and agrees with the new proposed alternative to the current guidance. We think it makes a lot of sense to require candidates who move surplus donations from a previous campaign to their new campaign to attribute those sources, and make sure those donations count toward the contributor's limit for the new campaign. This provides residents of Washington with important information on where the money is coming from and who has contributed to a candidate's campaign.

Please reach out if you have any questions.

Thank you!
